

Blackstone Edge Wind Farm

Project and community update from E.ON

our proposal

we've submitted the application

We've submitted a planning application for a three turbine wind farm, close to our existing scheme at Royd Moor. The application was made to Barnsley Council on 23 January 2008, after over 18 months of development work. During this time we have completed an extensive Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) and consulted many project stakeholders, including people living near to the site. Having listened to our stakeholders, we feel our proposal will let us generate green electricity with minium impact to the site and its surrounding area. Consenting the Blackstone Edge Wind Farm will provide a significant step forward for Barnsley to meet its 2010 green electricity target.

Combining the existing Royd Moor (6.5MW) and the consented Hazelhead scheme (6MW) with our Blackstone Edge proposal (6MW) will help break the 15MW wind capacity target set within the draft Regional Spatial Strategy for Yorkshire and Humber.

benefiting the local community

We're committed to building and maintaining strong relationships within the communities surrounding our power generation sites. Once the wind turbines are operational, we'll provide a community fund of £10,000 per year for the life time of the project (up to 25 years). The fund can be spent as the community wishes. We will also provide a Low Carbon Package, designed to benefit local homes and community buildings.

find out more

We have updated our website with details of the planning application. This includes access to our Environmental Statement, which covers the findings of the EIA.
